Agriculture & Horticulture Development Board Publication Scheme

This publication scheme commits the Agriculture and Horticulture Development Board (AHDB) to make information available to the public as part of its normal business activities. The information covered is included in the classes of information mentioned below, where this information is held by the authority. Additional assistance is provided to the definition of these classes in sector specific guidance manuals issued by the Information Commissioner.

This scheme commits AHDB:

- To proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information, including environmental information, which is held by AHDB and falls within the classifications below.
- To specify the information which is held by AHDB and falls within the classifications below.
- To proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information in line with the statements contained within this scheme.
- To produce and publish the methods by which the specific information is made routinely available so that it can be easily identified and accessed by members of the public.
- To review and update on a regular basis the information AHDB makes available under this scheme.
- To produce a schedule of any fees charged for access to information which is made proactively available.
- To make this publication scheme available to the public.

Cereals and Oilseeds in UK - HGCA services

HGCA SERVICES TO LEVY PAYERS AND INDUSTRY ORGS

Description	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Crop research HGCA funds and manages research on sustainable, competitive and profitable production for UK cereals and oilseeds, with a strong focus on existing and new markets. Great emphasis is placed on ensuring that the benefits of research are realised in practice.• Varieties HGCA Recommended Lists are run by Crop Evaluation Ltd, an independent company owned by HGCA and managed by all stakeholders involved in the Lists. Varieties are added to the Lists when they are considered to have the potential to provide a consistent economic benefit to the whole industry.• Supply Chain It is important for the different parts of the cereals supply chain to work together. Research has shown that cross-chain collaboration can improve efficiency, drive down costs, increase profitability and produce long-term stability. HGCA's Supply Chain Partnership has been founded to encourage cross-industry dialogue and highlight examples of best practice.• Markets HGCA provides economic analysis to aid marketing decisions. Up to the minute prices, supply and demand, trade and policy information are online. Find out about market outlook to risk management events. Free services for levy payers include the weekly market report, knowledge centre, Market Data Services, and e-Newsletters.• Education HGCA has an extensive range of free educational resources exploring the grain chain from field to plate. Packed full of fun and games and activities, the resources have been specially developed for children from primary through to secondary school (key stage 1-4). All resources are linked to the national curriculum and can be ordered on http://www.grainchain.com.• Exports Exports account for nearly a quarter of the UK's wheat and barley production. HGCA actively promotes UK wheat, barley and oats abroad and informs UK growers, traders and plant breeders of overseas buyers' needs. This section includes the Exporters Directory, with details of UK exporters, harvest quality surveys and variety updates.• Food & Nutrition HGCA provides information on food and nutrition for growers, processors and consumers. This includes insights into the buying behaviour of end-consumers and up-to-date information of export market opportunities.
